

China Industrial Plywood

For the face/back veneers of our Chinese Industrial Plywood we are using engineered veneer, so called “fineline”, or hardwood species. The layer build-up can vary from Poplar or Eucalyptus throughout to a combination of both.

For our hardwood face/back plywood we are working with knot free full veneer sheets from spp like Pencil Cedar, Sapele and Kosipo.

Fineline decks are produced from Poplar veneer which is composed in a special technique. The Poplar veneer is first glued together to a solid block. The “veneer block” is then turned around 90 degrees and sliced again into thin veneer. This results in a very nice stripes design.

The final colour can be adjusted according to clients orders before production.

The standard colour is reddish-brownish similar to red hardwoods.

FSC® certification is available for both on request.

Did you know...

That we work in China only with a selected number of factories in order to be able to deliver and guarantee quality plywood, continuity and EUTR conform supply? We also have our own quality control team present at the production units
